

The Basic Shapes of the head

The shape of the head often resembles the shape of an egg turned upside-down. A good base for the head is to draw a circle and then add a “U” shape below it.

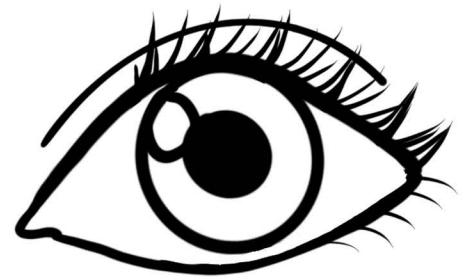

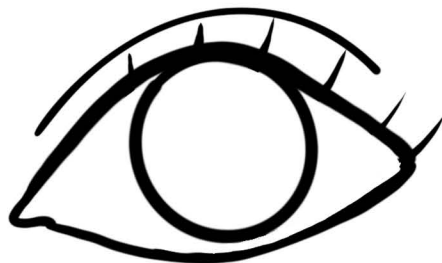

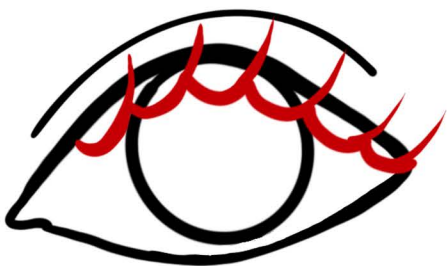

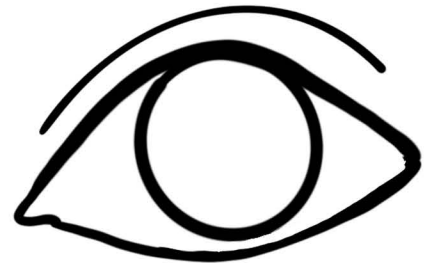

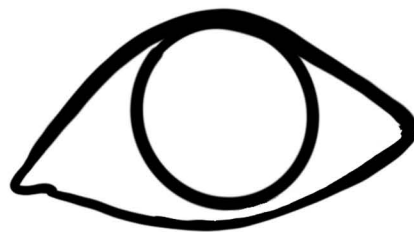

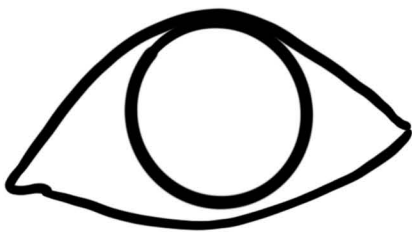

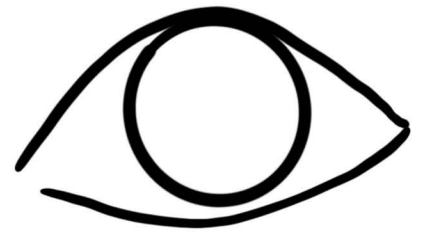

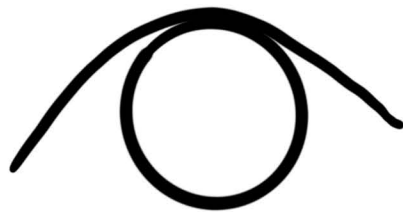

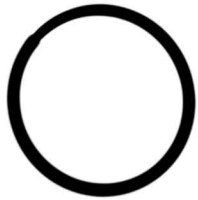

Facial Proportions

A good starting point is to place a line in the middle of the face

Facial proportions are used as a guide on how to place the features on the face, They also give the face a more symmetric look.

How to Draw an Eye

How to Draw Lips

Place two long ovals together to make the top lip and a slightly smaller one for the bottom lip.

The basic structure of the lips can be broken down into 3 oblong ovals.

1.

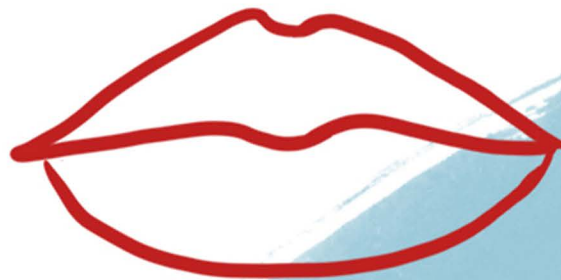

Draw over them but include a dip at the very top of the lip,

2.

3.

Erase the three ovals and you now have lips.